Eva Archer-Smith is a passionate and entertaining speaker . . .

Eva weaves insights from business, science, literature and current world events into all of her presentations. Audiences are able to see from many different perspectives how quite simple, practical changes lead to true lasting transformation.

A sampling of Eva's current topics include:

> How to be Politically Savvy Without Selling Your Soul

While competency clearly matters, the new world of work calls for a more collaborative, communicative, politically savvy and influential type of leadership. Is it possible to develop these "soft" skills and still remain true to yourself? Absolutely -- Eva shows you how.

> The Power of Not Knowing: How Curiosity Can Make You a Great Leader

In the past, knowing all the answers mattered. Today, the abilities to stay open to new ways of thinking and maneuver through ambiguity are what distinguish great leaders. Eva explains how giving up control can expand the potential of yourself and your organization.

> Frustration: Fuel for Change

Most business leaders are plagued with frustration. In this presentation, Eva asks: "What if we looked at frustration differently?" Audiences learn a very practical way to take the energy wasted on frustration and redirect it into a powerful tool for change and effectiveness.

> Five Choices That Will Change Your Life

Designed for anyone who feels out of control on the direction of their career or their company, Eva offers five simple, but profound, choices that help professionals regain their individuality, improve their ability to influence others, and create a more fulfilling future.

> Influencing Outcomes Through Productive Conversations

Do you find yourself spending an enormous amount of time talking, yet seeing very few results from your conversations? Learn how to plan every conversation for maximum productivity, how to set context, listen well and make requests that lead to action and alignment.

In addition to business topics, Eva has developed programs designed for organizations interested in consciousness development.
